

MYSTIC WORKERS CONVEENE IN CITY

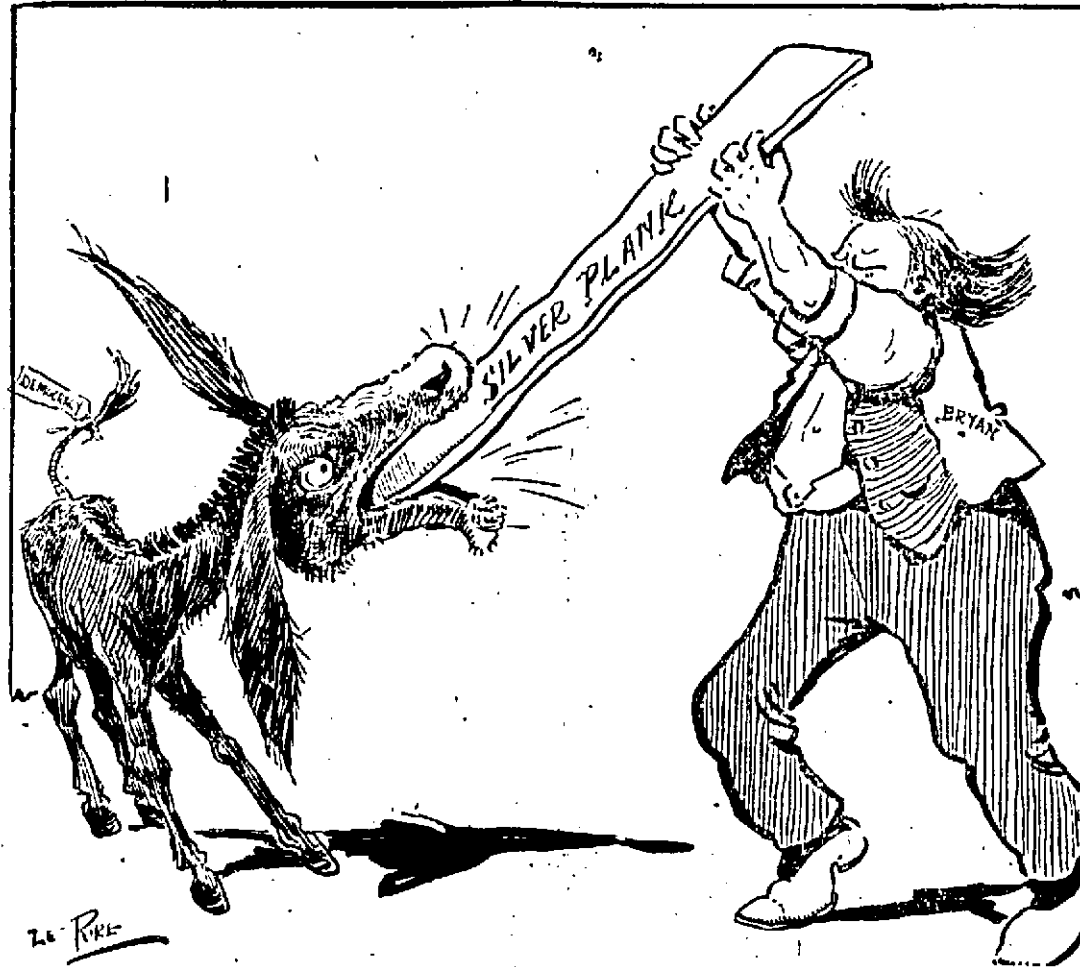

Several Hundred Delegates From Near and Far Arrive.

MAYOR PROFFERS KEYS TO CITY

All the Supreme Officers Present at Opening Session-- Public Invited Tonight--W. A. Cunningham for Supreme Master.

The Y. M. C. A. auditorium, decorated in purple and gold, was comfortably filled with a happy, smiling throng of delegates when the supreme officers of the Mystic Workers of the World took their places on the rostrum this morning preparatory to opening the fifth biennial session of the supreme lodge. Every officer was present when the gavel in the hands of Prefect J. F. Lynch of the Janesville lodge announced the opening of ings with the promise that your stay among us shall be a pleasant one, hoping at the same time that the high object for which you have gathered may be bettered and promoted. I need no greater or stronger demonstration of the high purpose of your order than the fact that it is founded on a rock of utility and that it has come to occupy the place which it does. Janesville is a modest city. We have some objects of interest and the meeting. After the opening address by the entire gathering, Rev. R. C. Denison offered the invocation.

Welcomed by Mayor
Mayor J. F. Hutchinson welcomed the visitors in his maiden speech as the new head of the city government. He said: "Mr. Chairman, Officers, and Members--It is a pleasure and a privilege for me to pronounce the words of welcome to you who have complimented Janesville by choosing it as the place for this gathering. I can say for Janesville that she extends to you the heartiest of greet-some physical attractions worthy of your attention. These you will find for yourselves. Ladies and gentlemen, as mayor of Janesville, I cheerfully extend to you the freedom of the city. If I can do anything for you collectively or individually, do not hesitate to command me."

Address of Welcome
Prefect J. F. Lynch then delivered the address of welcome. He expressed the pleasure of the Janesville lodge in having the officers and visiting delegates with them and dwelt at length on the benefits to be derived by members of this order. Acting Supreme Master George Lein of Fulton, Ill., delivered the response. He assured his hearers that the cause was a noble one and the purpose here recognized by the commonwealth of the great badge state as worthy of one of the grandest paraphrases in the English vocabulary--"A Welcome." Since the session of 1902 death had lurked within the walls of many Mystic homes and this was a constant reminder of the uncertainty of the future and the necessity of fraternal aid and fellowship. He referred feelingly to the passing of Worthy Supreme Master Robert S. Cowan, whose name and memory would "remain honored and cherished throughout the history of the Mystic Workers of the World." The necessity of enacting laws that would bring to an even higher standard of usefulness an order already numbering 31,000 members was dwelt upon at length.

Rev. Denison Speaks
Rev. Denison was introduced to the session as one of the foremost citizens of Janesville. He expressed his pleasure at the opportunity to gain an insight into what the order stood for and its work. When he thought of 31,000 men and women banded together for the principles of fraternity and love he was able to realize what a tremendous force the world had working at its heart--a force unknown to the old world. The echoes of war and destruction with which our daily papers are filled belong to the old order. Battleships, equipments of artillery, new inventions of machine guns, are bound to pass and die. This organization stands at the opposite extreme. It is to the glory of this order that it belongs to the new order and is to live and grow. We must be grateful to divine Providence that it has stirred new forces to supplant the old. Such institutions are bound to increase and multiply till peace and love extend their dominion over the earth. The philosophy of fraternity was not that any one class of people was to be helped by another but that all must be helpers as well as helped. "In this splendid spirit of fraternity God, I believe, calls this order and gives to each the sacred duty to be a helper of his fellow men in the splendid enterprises of the kingdom of God and the kingdom of humanity."

Past Master Howe
Past Master George W. Howe, former mayor of Morrison, Ill., was called upon to speak and remembered that at the first supreme session the number on the stage today would constitute the entire delegation present. He alluded to the fact that in the Mystic Workers ladies and gentlemen came into the order on an equal plane. General Attorney R. F. Lichtemberger of Savanna, Ill., apologized for appearing on the platform owing to the fact that he was a candidate for office. He said that the Mystic Workers and other fraternal orders were doing more for humanity than any other force now at work in the world. They buried the father and gave the widow and orphan a start in the world. Surely no more noble mission could exist. Before him he saw the faces of many scores who had come to this convention without selfishness--not a person among them who expected to receive anything for himself but all interested in doing something for these they were to leave behind.

Founder of the Order
G. W. Clendenen of Fulton, Ill., founder of the order and present supreme medical examiner, was the next speaker. He was glad to see the number gathered at the session and hoped to see another 31,000 added to the membership before the next gathering. Supreme Secretary Edmund Jackson of Fulton said that he had never met a member of the order of whom he was ashamed, though of course there were some of whom he was more proud than others. This remark provoked a roar of laughter. The membership was remarkably well selected and wisely distributed. It included all classes of men engaged in doing the world's work. He had often so used to allowing his wife to do the talking that it was no favor to him to call upon him for a speech.

Director J. S. Daily
A number of humorous stories were told by Director J. S. Daily of Chillicothe, Ill., who owns the electric light and water works plants in his native city. He thought it would require some ingenuity to say anything not already said. As he gazed at the "powerhouse of intelligence" before him, however, he was reminded that the ladies were responsible for much of the brainiest work. This tribute and the anecdotes were received with much applause.

Mrs. Joanna E. Downes
Mrs. Joanna E. Downes of Harvard, Ill., supreme conductor of the order, referred feelingly to the high calling of those engaged as deputies for the Mystic Workers of the World. No nobler labor than that of writing fraternal insurance could be done. It went hand in hand with the church. "Show me a town built up by fraternal insurance and I will show you a town with few in its county house, with children in its high school." She could talk all day on fraternal insurance but her hearers would say: "That's the woman of it."

Committees Appointed
At the conclusion of the speaking the chair announced the appointment of the following committees:
Credentials--P. C. Denison, of Sharon, E. B. Kelsor of Clinton Junction, and F. W. Davis of Onarga, Ill.
Laws--William Clark of Marshalltown, Iowa, Frank Quinn of Peoria, Jackson Silbaugh of Viroqua.

For Supreme Master
The race for officers promises to be an exciting one. The campaign is going on quietly but there will be lively times tomorrow morning when the election takes place. W. A. Cunningham of Anamosa, Iowa, is regarded as the certain choice for supreme master but such certainty does not exist in regard to the candidates for other offices. The ladies have formed a combine to force one of their number on the board of directors.

Program Tonight
The public is invited to attend the open meeting at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium this evening. A most attractive program has been prepared. Mrs. B. F. Lichtemberger in her talk on "Art" will use $1,500 worth of stereopticon views. There will be musical numbers and addresses that are certain to prove interesting and entertaining. Victor, Col., June 7.--At nine this morning the district had almost resumed its normal condition. Sufficient troops and deputies are on hand to maintain order. The vigilance committee is scouring the small towns in the vicinity for nihilists, who are brought here and placed under guard. JAPS LOST IN NAVAL BATTLE

Port Arthur Fleet Attacks Togo's Fleet, and Inflicts Very Severe Damage.

ADVANCE, HOWEVER, IS CHECKED

All Efforts to Send Reinforcements to the Besieged Citadel Proves Futile, the Japanese Proving Too Strong.

[Special by Scripps-Mellae.]
Liaoyang, June 7.--It is persistently reported here that the Port Arthur squadron made a sortie shortly before dawn on Saturday, with the torpedo boat destroyers leading, and found the Japanese fleet quite unsuspecting, the presence of hostile warships, with the result that four of the Japanese ships were sunk during the attack.
Check Relief Forces.
St. Petersburg, June 7.--The Russian fleet sent to the relief of Port Arthur has been checked by a severe outpost fight twenty-five miles north of Kichon.

The Russians held their position, but the fact that their advance was checked proves "that the Japanese hold the roads to Port Arthur with superior numbers, and that nothing less than an advance in force of Gen. Kouropatkin's main army will serve to relieve the pressure on Port Arthur."
It is stated positively that Viceroy Alexieff has been authorized to inform Gen. Kouropatkin that he (the general) must make the relief of Port Arthur the first object in the campaign.

The outpost fighting twenty-five miles north of Kichon on June 3 and on the river Koldzzy, north of Taku-shan, and eighteen miles from Kuroki's headquarters at Fengwangcheng, proves positively enough that Kouropatkin cannot march to the relief of Port Arthur without drawing the major part of his force from Liaoyang.
That this course would be suicidal is the general opinion of all military authorities here.

Details of the Fighting.
The outpost fighting north of Kichon took place on June 3 at Yantian-tow, east of Vafanow. The Russian force consisted of an infantry regiment, some artillery, several companies of Cossacks and a squad of dragoons. The enemy was discovered in the valley of Pwyslantow. The Russians brought up a battery, opened fire and cleared the Japanese out of the valley. Then the Russian guns were moved to a more favorable position. The Japanese, taking advantage of the darkness, made a counter-attack. The engagement lasted from 1 p. m. until 6 p. m.
"On the Japanese side six companies took part, four having arrived as reinforcements. The intrenchments of the enemy were well constructed and perfectly masked.
"Our cavalry worked the guns admirably. Their fire contributed principally to our success. Our losses were the gallant Cossack Chief Strakoff, killed, two officers slightly wounded, and two bruised. The Japanese losses were not ascertained, except that they were larger than ours."

TRAMP ASSAULTS A CATHOLIC NUN

Is Captured, and a Mob is Forming to Lynch Him--All in Indiana.

[Special by Scripps-Mellae.]
Sheelbyville, Ind., June 7.--A dastardly assault and an attempt at murder was made by a tramp about midnight on Sister Theodora, Mother Superior of the local Catholic church. The man was pursued and caught. A mob is now forming to lynch him. The assault took place near Prescott in this county. Sister Theodora is in a serious condition. The tramp entered the home of Thomas Hiert and assaulted Mrs. Hiert. Her husband came to her rescue, but he was held off by a revolver while the man escaped. A posse overtook the tramp at Waldron. He was identified by Sister Theodora and locked in jail. He is guarded by deputies armed with shotguns. The mob surrounds the jail bent on lynching.

Ringling Brothers' Shows

The trained animal exhibition with Ringling Brothers' World's Greatest show surpasses anything of the kind ever attempted. From their immense herd of 40 elephants they present three large groups in separate performances, the features of which must be seen to be appreciated. The huge beasts move with incredible speed, and thoroughly enjoy the unnatural things they are called upon to do. They play at mimic war, dance dreamy waltzes, lively two-steps and stately minuets, humorously enact farcical skits, stand on their heads and balance their ponderous bodies with all the skill of human performers. They also play musical instruments with a marvelous result of tuneful tone. Pearl Souder, a trainer of international fame, directs this remarkable exhibition. Herr Souder claims the elephant is the most intelligent, faithful and useful of all wild animals, and avers with impressive solemnity that the monster beasts have a language as well as a degree of human understanding, which he is able to translate and thereby get into closer sympathy with his charges. The wonderful things they do at his suggestion give a color of probability to this claim. It is the sight of a lifetime to see 40 elephants in one big company, and that is the privilege offered by Ringling Brothers in the menagerie annex to their World's Greatest shows.

A Wife and Mother

Should not be exposed to the schemes of self-styled financiers. So think a great many men who, instead of leaving their insurance in bulk to their widows, have counseled with The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York, and adopted a course, which has eventuated in something like the plan of the late Archibald N. Waterhouse, of Philadelphia, who died suddenly last Friday, and who held policies amounting to $50,000 in The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York. The terms of insurance under which these policies were issued were so selected that his widow will receive at once $25,000 in cash and an annual income of $5,000 for twenty years, and if she is living at the end of that period she will receive $50,000 in cash, making the total amount received under these policies $125,000 on which the premiums paid by Mr. Waterhouse amounted to only $17,497.20. (From the Philadelphia Record, Nov. 13, 1902.)

Brain and Brawn

A well poised mental and physical development is the best equipment for success which a young man or a young woman can have. Proper food, healthful living and congenial employment will make your mind brighter, and will round out and symmetrically develop your figure. Neither the mental nor the physical side should dominate; the one should balance the other.

MARVEL FLOUR

Is the ideal food for brain and brawn. Nature has provided the wheat and man's skill has made that wheat into good, wholesome, health-giving flour, especially suited to the needs of the human system. Marvel Flour represents the highest type of modern milling—a quarter of a century's continuous effort to make the highest quality of flour. The best points in every process of wheat blending and flour milling used at home or abroad have been combined in the producing of Marvel Flour. Your grocer endorses the maker's guarantee of perfect satisfaction in Marvel Flour, or the full purchase price will be returned to you. Ask your grocer.

If you are a husband, and as such soon expect to become a father, take heed. Before you can realize your fondest dreams it is necessary that great suffering be borne by her whom you love better than yourself; you would do anything in your power to alleviate her suffering, would you not?

Mother's Friend

A liniment of unquestioned value in pregnancy, will wonderfully ease the ordeal through which your wife must pass; it is easily within your power to procure it; surely it cannot be other than your duty to do so. LIFE INSURANCE SAVINGS.

The "Insurance Press" in its issue of June 1st contains some very interesting statistics on life insurance.

For the year 1903 the companies disbursed for death claims, in the United States and Canada, $258,318,553, aside from paying $30,000,000 in dividends, and a like amount for surrendered policies. The companies also wrote $2,000,000,000 of new insurance during the year.

The Wall Street Journal recently made the statement that a large majority of the people in this country are capitalists. The statement seemed startling and yet it is true, because a man becomes a capitalist as soon as he ceases to live from hand to mouth, and commences to accumulate.

More than 5,000,000 wage earners in the United States are regular patrons of savings banks. They have stepped out in advance of the ranks of discontent, and joined the ranks of capital.

The beginnings may be small, but fortunes come from small beginnings, and the disposition to save is one of the first requirements.

The $250,000,000 paid out by life insurance companies in a single year represents the savings of the people and in many cases furnishes an estate which stands between the home and poverty. The man who provides for his family, after he has gone, is a capitalist, whether the provision is in money, property or life insurance.

The average man attempts to do this, and it is the most commendable effort of his life. It is the open doorway to contentment and happiness and holds him steady in times of agitation and unrest. The ranks of capital are being enlarged every year, and the fact is generally recognized that thrift and economy are the handmaids of success.

The ability to acquire millions fortunately rests with the few, but the ability to save for a rainy day is with the masses, and this fact was never more fully appreciated than today. There is no occasion for class distinction in this free land. The masses are the classes and the ambition to improve opportunities, which were never more abundant, is widespread and practically universal.

THE SITUATION UNCHANGED.

The Chicago Sunday Tribune attempted to throw a little light on the Wisconsin situation, in a four-column article by Raymond. It was simply a rehash of recent history, familiar to the people of the state, and containing nothing new.

The writer seems to be impressed with the notion that the national ticket is in danger and argues that the names of the republican presidential electors can only appear in one column on the ballot. He suggests that a compromise should be effected, but has nothing to offer in the way of a plan.

This is not at all surprising, for after a campaign of four years under the banner, "no compromise," and after the manifesto issued three months ago by the governor's champions, in which "harmony" was denounced as undesirable, the question of compromise could hardly be considered.

As regards the national ticket, however, there is no cause for alarm. The voters of Wisconsin are familiar with the Austrian ballot and they possess the intelligence to use it.

As soon as it is known in which column the names of the republican electors will appear a campaign of instruction will be inaugurated by the republican press of the state, and before election day every voter will know exactly how to mark his ballot.

However much the party may be divided on state issues, it is a unit on national affairs and it will vote as a unit.

The Chicago republican press has been badly tainted with La Folletteism for the past four years, and news stories have been slanted so much in favor of the governor, that it was plain to be seen.

The papers have but little political influence at home, and they carry less weight in Wisconsin. They happened to be on the winning side the other day, at Springfield, but the victory was destitute of glory, as the governor, whom they had roundly abused for four years, saved them from defeat.

The republican party of Wisconsin will never be united through any suggestions that may be offered by the Chicago press. It is doubtful if the press of the state will have any influence in that direction. The breach is too wide to be healed, either by statement or argument, and the question can only be settled by individual members of the party who in time may come to realize that party warfare is of supreme importance.

If newspaper stock advances, as the result of the paper mill strike in the Fox River Valley, the loss will come on the publishers and not on the public. Unlike the coal product, which advances whenever the magnates sneeze, the price of papers never advances.

Governor Dockery, of Missouri, is entitled to congratulations for stopping the bull fight at the St. Louis exposition last Saturday. Bull fights may be all right for Mexico but they are off color in this country.

The tour of the old liberty bell from Philadelphia to St. Louis affords an object lesson of unusual interest. Its reception in Milwaukee was the event of the year and thousands of school children improved the opportunity of a lifetime to see the ancient relic.

The Japs are fighting for patriotism and love of country. The Russians for conquest and through fear of their emperor. The difference in the two armies is represented by the difference in the principles involved.

There is as much difference between socialism and unionism as there is between capital and labor. Organized labor as such does not endorse the principles of socialism, and it is well for the country that such is the case.

The print mills at Providence are many of them closed for lack of orders, and labor disturbances are not threatening in that particular industry.

Mr. Bryan may not control the St. Louis convention, but he promises to be a troublesome brother.

The republican party will have plenty of time for reminiscences after the breach is healed.

Wisconsin received from life insurance companies in 1903, $4,700,000. Janesville's share being $58,000.

PRESS COMMENT

Menasha Record: Say, wouldn't it be fun if the minor machines and the hays would shut up and let us know just what really does happen?

Milwaukee Sentinel: Dr. Newell Dwight Hills does once more to say that the next generation will think it vulgar to be rich. Perhaps it will also think it vulgar to be sentimental.

Milwaukee Journal: A quiet tip is being passed around at Appleton that the Wall street is both and that the assembly on the way down to St. Louis will be enthused with a rose boom for the vice presidency.

Racine Journal: Postmaster General Payne believes his health will permit him to act as chairman of the republican national committee. In this case the president could secure no better man.

Oshkosh Northwestern: It is possible that after all Miss Roosevelt is just enough of a politician to prolong her stay in Missouri for the sake of putting that state in the doubtful column this fall?

Grant County Herald: Veterans of the civil war who are not in sympathy with Gov. La Follette and his pet reforms must enjoy being compared with Jeff Davis, termed traitors, secessionists and such epithets by the degraded press of the half-breeds.

Seranton Tribune: A second cable between the United States and Germany has been completed. Marconi's wireless does not seem to be interfering much with the ways of the fathers in long distance communication.

St. Louis Globe Democrat: After ten years of calm communion with himself, ex-President Cleveland has placed the stamp of approval upon his course in the settlement of the Chicago strike.

Chicago Chronicle: As a result of the Russo-Japanese war Hero Hobson sees a world-wide conflict in which the United States will be involved and China will be dismembered. The first thing Hero Hobson knows Captain Mahan will be suing him for infringement of copyright.

Madison Journal: It is sometimes pitiful when the Milwaukee Free Press seeks to compile a heavy load of favorable press comments. The last batch includes the Westby Times, the Loyal Tribune and the De Forest Times. If "vox populi, vox dei," what a feeble paradeade help this lot!

Evansville Enterprise: Work on the new block is attracting the principal attention of loafers just now and it has been necessary to erect a fence along the sidewalk to prevent those who fall asleep from falling into the basement below and collecting damages from the contractors. The fence is not barb wire.

Stoughton Daily: In several newspapers of the La Follette brand, the threat is openly made that unless Mr. Cook is pulled off and the whole stalwart ticket withdrawn a fight will be ordered all along the line from coroner to congressman. Let it come! It often happens that the bully who struts around looking for trouble is unexpectedly accommodated.

Indianapolis Journal: A box of bubonic plague germs, on its way from India, has been lost in some part of the country between San Francisco and Washington. The finder will please report to the government scientists and receive a part of the contents of the box for his honesty.

Chicago Record-Herald: The American newspaper humorists are raising a fund which is to be used for the erection of a monument to Bill Nye, whose grave near Asheville, N. C., is unmarked and whose widow has been compelled to open a boarding house for the purpose of supporting herself and her children. One of the most wonderful things about being a humorist is the courage it requires.

La Crosse Chronicle: But what were the gentlemen doing in Washington? If they had no intention to ask the president to interfere, if they did not expect that he would take a hand in the matter, why lay before him "the dangers to the national ticket" without asking the president to take a hand, did they so frame their statements as to convey some threat? Did they intimate, covertly, that their rule or ruin program was to be extended to the national ticket? Was that one of the "dangers" they referred to?

El Paso Herald: Some of these days Canada will wake up to a realizing sense that the United States does not want her very much and really seldom stops to remember that she is on the same continent. Much of the Canuck's fun in life is derived from discussing Uncle Sam's perilous plots to kidnap his petty neighbor from her protecting mother's side, and if they did not believe in it and counterplot and have a gay old time getting mad about it, they might perish of ennui in the long winter night. As a more matter of Christian charity, Washington ought to make a hostile party to the northward once in awhile just to be entertaining.

San Claire Leader: An attempt is being made to wrest from Wisconsin the honor of being the birthplace of the republican party, and to transfer the same to Michigan, but it will not succeed. Wisconsin is the state and Ripon is the place where the immortal resolution was passed. Resolved, "That in view of the necessity of battling for the first principles of republican government, and against the schemes of an aristocracy, the most revolting and oppressive with which the earth was ever cursed or man debased, we will co-operate and be known as 'republicans' until the contest be terminated. The conservative wing of the republican party in this state is now on the defensive to protect the principles enunciated by that party on its being ushered into a cold unfeeling world.

Six Falls Argus Leader: Governor La Follette has manifestly employed his hand in Wisconsin politics. His arbitrary act in appointing delegates enough to give him control of the convention produced the result which might have been expected. Meanwhile, Illinois is in much better shape than Wisconsin. Had Yates followed the same methods which La Follette employed in Wisconsin, assuming that he controlled the state committee, the matter would have been simple. All he would need to do would be to trump up a lot of contests, seat his own delegates, and order his nomination. The La Follette method was to make the state central committee the state convention. But had this been done in Illinois, it would have yielded a boiling convention, and the case in Wisconsin, and the result of this would have been the loss of the state to the republicans.

MISS ROOSEVELT COOL WHEN FACING DANGER

President's Daughter Retains Her Self-Control When Carriage Horse Becomes Unmanageable.

Washington, June 7.—Miss Alice Roosevelt displayed great nerve and presence of mind Monday afternoon. Retiring from the St. Louis exposition she was met at the Pennsylvania Railroad station by a brougham from the White House. When opposite the Treasury Department, within a block of the White House, the horse became unmanageable. It bucked and pitched, backed and kicked. Miss Roosevelt, seated in the brougham with a companion, remained cool, while the driver and footman tugged in vain to control the horse. The carriage was backed with violence into a vehicle at the curb, wrecking it, and the few pedestrians on the street began to fear that Miss Roosevelt was in for a runaway. During a moment's pause in the animal's struggle for freedom Miss Roosevelt deftly opened the coach door and jumped to the street followed by her companion. The two walked to the White House.

GIRL'S DEATH YET A MYSTERY

Experts Hunt for Poison, and Her Former Sweetheart is Held.

Muncie, Ind., June 7.—Another day has passed without physicians being able to state the cause of the death of Artie Menka, the pretty girl telephone operator. Solomon Lee, the acknowledged sweetheart, who is being held pending the investigation, claims that when they had quarrels Miss Menka would suffer from nervous prostration and that he had been called several times from Indianapolis by her alarmed parents to come here, because his presence would restore her to a normal condition. However, the examination of the contents of the dead girl's stomach, any now being made by experts and Lee's freedom depends upon the official report.

SENTENCE FOR BANK CASHIER

Judge Sends Him to Penitentiary for Thirty-five Years.

Leavenworth, Kan., June 7.—J. E. Marcell, whose forgeries of $200,000 wrecked the Hishland bank, has been sentenced to thirty-five years in prison, five years on each of seven counts, and began serving time in the penitentiary. He was placed as an apprentice under Emmet Dalton, the former outlaw and bank robber, in the tailor shop. Marcell was cashier of the wrecked bank. What he did with the thousands he stole is still a mystery. He recently pleaded guilty. Marcell cannot be paroled until he has served at least eighteen years of his sentence.

PRIVATE BANKER IS BANKRUPT

Demand of Inspector to See Books Causes Filing of Petition.

Mazomanie, Wis., June 7.—W. P. Jones of Arena, proprietor of a private banking system in that place, has filed a petition of bankruptcy in the United States court at Madison. Under the recent law the bank inspector demanded access to the books, whereupon this action was taken. His liabilities are $30,000 and assets $50,000, of which about $20,000 consisted of worthless notes and other negotiable papers.

THE GAZETTE opens the way for an energetic man to enjoy all the good things of a week's outing at the World's Fair, St. Louis. His wife goes, too, and no expense for either one, not even the loss of time.

A little time spent in looking up new subscribers and in prevailing upon the old ones to pay in advance is all that is necessary.

Vim, pluck, perseverance, will win this plum. Start now, today, with a determination to win and there is little doubt but that you will have the driver's seat in the band wagon. The early bird catches the worm, and the early start gives you a decided lead hard for the other fellow to get past.

CONDITIONS OF THE CONTEST.

The popularity of the candidate is to be determined by the number of votes cast for him.
